ENGINEERING INVENTIONS.

An injector has been patented by Mr. Elijah Ware, of Omaha, Neb. It has an ejecting cone, combination cone, and overflow pipe, in combination with a steam inlet valve, water valve, and an overflow valve adapted to be connected with the inlet port of the steam valve, so as to cause suction in the overflow pipe, and means for operating the three valves simultaneously, with other novel features.

A dredge has been patented by Mr. Henry O. Geiger, of Tacoma, Washington Ter. A shaft is arranged, within a suction pipe and provided with an Archimedean screw, there being mechanism for raising and lowering the pipe with its screw, with other novel features, the rotation of the screw agitating the sand, clay, or mud at the bottom of rivers, etc., so that it is forced to ascend the suction pipe.

A car coupling has been patented by Mesers Levy and David Rosenthal, of Hudson, N. Y. The drawhead has spring-actuated doors and means for opening them, a spring-actuated drawer being adapted to slide beneath the drawhead and support the link, a shaft journaled beneath the sill of the car carrying ratchet wheels being connected with the drawer, and a pawl-carrying shaft being adapted for co-operation with the ratchet-carrying shaft.

Feeding air to steam boiler furnaces forms the subject of a patent issued to Messrs. Alanson Horton and Benjamin J. Wright, of Hammondsport, N. Y. The invention consists of a fan or its equivalent connected to the boiler, the fan being provided with means for regulating the amount of air supplied to the boiler, whereby the draught may be greatly increased without increasing the height of the stack, and all kinds of fuel can be better burned.

AGRICULTURAL INVENTIONS.

A lister cultivator has been patented by Mr. Joseph P. Lutes, of Ridgeley, Mo. It is specially adapted for working listed corn, and is designed to work the corn in the gutters or furrows made by the lister, and at the same time smooth the ridges between the corn and feed fresh soil to the same.

A corn and cotton planter has been patented by Mr. Jesse A. Childs, of Coushatta, La. It has a reciprocating cylinder, whereby the distance between the hills may be exactly met, and a cut-off regulating mechanism for measuring with great exactness the quantity of seed discharged into each hill, with other novel features.

A combined cultivator and corn planter has been patented by Mr. Emil Westhoff, of Cuero, Texas. It is designed to be self-covering and adjustable as to the transverse and longitudinal space between the hills and rows, and to be regulated as to the material fed at each throw of the seed slide, and also to mark off the adjacent row as the machine ad-

A low-binding harvester has been patented by Messrs. J. C. and George A. Cunningham, of Washington, Kansas. It is so constructed that the grain is carried to the binding mechanism by means of a continuous endless carrier belt arranged upon a level with or slightly above that of the binding table, one of the main objects being to carry the grain directly to the binding table.

MISCELLANEOUS INVENTIONS.

An improvement in the ornamentation of wall paper has been patented by Mr. Charles H. Provost, of Brooklyn, N. Y. The invention consists in the method of distributing on a wet or dry ground color or bronze, so that the bronze will appear upon the color, and then the paper is embossed.

A method of and apparatus for making fibrous vessels, such as pails, tubs, etc., has been patented by Mr. Leroy Tobey, of Penn Yan, N. Y. It consists in drawing fibrous material held in suspension, such as paper or rag pulp, on to a perforated form immersed in the liquid, continuing the suction afterward to dry the fiber, then soaking the vessel so formed in a hardening compound, and pressing and finishing.

A folding baby carriage has been patented by Mr. Charles Haller, of New York City. The invention covers an improvement on two former pa tented inventions of the same inventor, simplifying the construction of the carriage, and rendering it lighter, less liable to disarrangement, and more convenient in

A windmill has been patented by Mr. Hanford Reynolds, of Gifford, Ill. It is so constructed that its wings can be automatically adjusted in accordance with the force and direction of the wind, and with the power required, and can be readily thrown in or out of action, the mill requiring no vane or other device for adjusting it in accordance with the direction of the

A wheel for grooving machines has been patented by Mr. Sabin F. Brown, of Dawson, Minn. It is for grooving together tin and other sheet metal by passing the wheel once forward and back over the seam, and is made in three parts, one part to be lowered to stand flush with the edges of the other parts. or raised to form the offset, the movable part of the wheel being acted upon by an eccentric and crank.

A suspender or other buckle has been patented by Mr. Charles R. Harris, of Williamsport, Pa. This invention relates to combined buckles and lower hooks or loops capable of manipulation or adjustment from the front, and in which the buckle frame is made of wire and has combined with it a rear toothed cross bar that engages with the web passing through the buckle frame.

A vehicle hub has been patented by Mr. Burwell C. H. Simpson, of Lebanon, Tenn. This invention covers a novel construction, whereby the spokes may be securely clamped, and so as to allow renewal of either the spokes or felly sections, and also to allow tightening of the tire by expansion of the felly sections by endwise thrust of the spokes when wedged outward from the hub.

A device for stuffing mattresses has been patented by Mr. John R. De Haven, of Cloverport, Ky. It consists of a stand supporting loose slats ard a removable head piece, of side bars having points on one end, of bottom plates, and of top rods supported by the head piece and by a U-shaped frame pivoted to the stand, enabling an operator to fill a mattress tick rapidly and evenly.

A corset has been patented by Mr. Milton J. Roberts, of New York City. Its distinctive feature is that it is woven over a form into curvilinear contour out of wire strands, the meshes having a greater number of twists in some parts of the corset than in others, and the corset being designed especially to support the body and relieve the sufferings of the deformed or crippled, although otherwise advantageously appli-

REMARKABLE RECOVERY THAT HAS ADDED AN IDIOM TO THE ENGLISH TONGUE.

In Wheeling, W. Va., there is a colloquia/ism that is universally understood and almost hourly used. It is heard on the streets when friends meet, and at the railroad stations and steamboat landings when citizens re-turn home: "Can this be Mrs. Kelley?" The episode "Can this be Mrs. Kelley?" which these words recall is a touching one. Mrs. Kelleyis the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. James Hornbrook, and during the civil warshe wass Florence Nightingalein the strongest, noblest sense. Her arduous labors broke lown her health, and she became totally paralyzed from the hips to the feet. The trunk of her body was the seat of violent neuralgic pains. After many years of suffering she was brought to Philadelphia on a bed, enduring indescribable agonies in the cars. There she ed under the Compound Oxygen Treatment of Drs. Starkey & Palen, then on Girard Street, and now at 1529 Arch Street, in that city. Her home physician regarded her case as hopeless, and it appeared so to her Phila-delphia doctors. But at the end of a few months she vas restored to the use of her limbs, and at the end of a year was completely restored. She then returned home married, and has enjoyed life ever since. And when her friends meet her they ask: "Can this be Mrs. Kelley?" A pamphlet giving full details of this and many other cures sent free on application.

ARCHITECT'S AND BUILDER'S POCKET Book. By Frank Eugene Kidder. Fourth edition. New York: John Wiley & Sons. Pp. 649. $3.50.

This book is not written for the engineer or profes sional man so much as it is for the competent, studious and observing mechanic. It contains a great amount of information on carpentry, masonry, drainage, painting and glazing, plumbing, plastering, roofing, heating and ventilation, and other subjects connected with building operations, in a form convenient for ready reference and easy comprehension.
