Back Page, each insertion, - - $1.00 a line
For some classes of Advertisements, Special and Higher rates are required.

The above are charges per agate line—about eight words per line. This notice shows the width of the line, and is set in agate type. Engravings may head advertisements at the same rate per agate line, by measurement, as the letter press. Advertisements must be received at Publication Office as early as Thursday morning to appear in the following week's issue.

COLD FORGED PRODUCT.

"Rogers' Drive Screw."

Patented May 10, July 19, 1887;
July 10, 1888;
July 19, 1892.

It will turn like a screw into wood when driven with a hammer, and will not break the fibers of the wood.

It is cheaper than a common screw, and, being cold forged, the entire surface has a metallic skin. For applying steps to Electric Light Poles, it has no superior.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN DYNAMO.
Description of a plain shunt-wound dynamo of simple construction, capable of supplying a current of from 60 to 75 lbs.-volt incandescent lamps, or of being used as a 5 h. p. motor. This machine was constructed especially for the benefit of the readers of the Scientific American, by Mr. W. S. Bishop, of New Haven, Conn. It is designed to meet the wants of mechanics and amateurs who desire to construct a simple dynamo for their own use, but who do not care to enter into the subject scientifically. With 24 illustrations. Contained in SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN SUPPLEMENT, No. 865. Price 10 cents. To be had at this office and from all newsdealers.

The American Bell Telephone Company
125 MILK ST., BOSTON, MASS.

This Company owns the Letters Patent No. 186,787, granted to Alexander Graham Bell, January 30, 1877, the scope of which has been defined by the Supreme Court of the United States in the following terms:

"The patent itself is for the mechanical structure of an electric telephone to be used to produce the electrical action on which the first patent rests. The third claim is for the use in such instruments of a diaphragm, made of a plate of iron or steel, or other material capable of inductive action; the fifth, of a permanent magnet constructed as described, with a coil upon the end or ends nearest the plate; the sixth, of a sounding box as described; the seventh, of a speaking or hearing tube as described for conveying the sounds; and the eighth, of a permanent magnet and plate combined. The claim is not for these several things in and of themselves, but for an electric telephone in the construction of which these things or any of them are used."

This Company also owns Letters Patent No. 463,569, granted to Emile Berliner, November 17, 1891, for a Combined Telegraph and Telephone; and controls Letters Patent No. 474,231, granted to Thomas A. Edison, May 3, 1892, for a Speaking Telegraph, which cover fundamental inventions and embrace all forms of microphone transmitters and of carbon telephones.
