Gas Engine

Construction

By HENRY V. A. PARSELL, Jr., Mem. A. I. Elec. Eng., and ARTHUR J. WEED, M. E.

PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED.

Price, $2.50, postpaid.

Price, $2.50, postpaid.

This book treats of the subject more from the standpoint of practice than that of theory. The principles of operation of Gas Engines are clearly and simply described, and then the actual construction of a half-horse power engine is taken up.

First come directions for making the patterns; this is followed by all the details of the mechanical operations of finishing up and fitting the castings. It is profusely illustrated with beautiful engravings of the actual work in progress, showing the modes of chucking, turning, boring and finishing the parts in the lathe, and also plainly showing the lining up and erection of the engine.

Dimensioned working drawings give clearly the sizes and forms of the various details.

The entire engine, with the exception of the flywheels, is designed to be made on a simple eight-inch lathe, with side rests.

The book closes with a chapter on American practice in Gas Engine design and gives simple rules so that anyone can figure out the dimentions of similar engines of other powers.

Every illustration in this book is new and original, having been made expressly for this work. Large 8vo. 296 pages.
