DANGEROUS TRADES. The Historical, Industrial, Social and Legal Aspects of Industrial Occupations as Affecting Health. By a Number of Experts. Edited by Thomas Oliver, M.A., M. D., F.R.P. With illustrations. London: John Murray. New York: E. P. Dutton & Co. 1902. Octavo. Pp. xxi, 891. Price $8 net. There is perhaps no medical economist better qualified to prepare a work on perilous vocations than Dr. Oliver. He has more than once placed at the British government's disposal valuable experience gained in the study of trades, which, from the time of their inception, have been the cause of much loss of life. The work which Dr. Oliver has edited, and to which he has himself contributed valuable articles, comprises essentially careful studies from the legal, medical and economical standpoint of the manufacture of lead in its different forms; the manufacture of phosphorus matches; the dangers of mining; general factory conditions and their effect upon factory hands, and a host of other subjects. Although there is no attempt at what might be called a graphic exposition of the dangers of each calling, nevertheless, the mere recitation of the loss of life entailed is almost as appalling as if it had been narrated with all the art of a realistic novelist.

Traveling at Night. Said a noted traveler: "I always use the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway in my travels because I am sure of a good night's rest in the sleeping car." This statement hits the nail squarely on the head. No heaving and lurching of the car, noisy rail joints, nor rough, sharp jolts, but just an even, quiet, steady gliding ahead. Minimum of fatigue, maximum of pleasure and safety, and punctual service, these things have made the Lake Shore the greatest through train line in America. Chicago and Cleveland, Buffalo, Boston and New York are knit closely together by its great trains. Send for booklet, "Privileges for Lake Shore Patrons," contains useful information; also "Book of Trams." A. J. SMITH, G. P. & T. A., Cleveland, O.
