The Progress of Invention In the Nineteenth Century

By EDWARD W. BYRN, A.M.

Large Octavo. 480 Pages.

300 Illustrations. Price $3.00 by Mail, Postpaid. Half Red Morocco, Gilt Top $4.00.

The most important book ever published on invention and discovery. It is as readable as a novel, being written in popular style.

The book gives a most comprehensive and coherent account of the progress which distinguishes this as the "golden age of invention," resulting in industrial and commercial development which is without precedent. A chronological calendar of the leading inventions is one of the most important features of the book, enabling the reader to refer at a glance to important inventions and discoveries of any particular year. The book is printed with large type, on fine paper, and is elaborately illustrated by 300 engravings and is attractively bound.

NOW READY

TWENTY-THIRD EDITION

Experimental Science

By GEORGE H. HOPKINS

Revised and Greatly Enlarged. 2 Octavo Volumes. 1,100 Pages. 900 Illustrations. Cloth Bound, Postpaid, $5.00. Half Morocco, Postpaid, $7.00. Or Volumes Sold Separately: Cloth, $3.00 per Volume; Half Morocco, $4.00 per Volume.

EXPERIMENTAL SCIENCE is so well known to many of our readers that it is hardly necessary now to give a description of this work. Mr. Hopkins decided some months ago that it would be necessary to prepare a new edition of this work in order that the many wonderful discoveries of modern times might be fully described in its pages. Since the last edition was published, wonderful developments in wireless telegraphy, for example, have been made. It was necessary therefore, that a good deal of new matter should be added to the work in order to make it thoroughly up-to-date, and with this object in view some 200 pages have been added. On account of the increased size of the work, it has been necessary to divide it into two volumes, handsomely bound in buckram.

M.S., C.E., M.M.E. New York: John Wiley & Sons. London: Chapman & Hall, Ltd. 1902. 8vo. Pp. xv. 562; 227 figures. Price $4.

Since the appearance of the first edition of this book in 1895, the advances made in the art of heating and ventilation have been such that a thorough revision was found necessary. Three chapters have been added, one relating to the fan or blower, and another to the general subject of mechanical systems of heating and ventilating, and a third to schoolhouse heating and ventilating. The book probably describes the latest improvements in both heating and ventilating. Particularly meritorious features are the directions for the construction and installation of the various systems now in use.

AN INTRODUCTION TO CELESTIAL MECHANICS.

By F. R. Moulton, Ph.D. New York: The Macmillan Company. London: Macmillan & Co., Ltd. 1902. Pp. xv, 384. Price $3.50.

Dr. Moulton has prepared an admirable text book on a subject which most college students find peculiarly difficult. All problems are stated in advance and where the transformations are long an outline of the steps which are to be made is given. The volume is the outgrowth of a course of lectures given annually in the University of Chicago. Not the least valuable portion of the book is an introduction to the problem of three bodies.
