obtained, and with the improved means of manipulation, the boiler makers of to-day are no longer hampered by the difficulties which early workers, and, therefore, are now enabled to give their almost undivided attention to design. As far as possible the author has selected a characteristic sample of each type to illustrate and describe, even though many of these samples have become quite obsolete, but have been links in the chain of development. In addition to the illustrations in the text, a series of plates are given, showing the various types of boilers grouped together to assist in following out the evolution of each type. A bibliography containing titles of important works on boilers and steam is given at the end of the book.

THE COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER IN SOUTH AMERICA. By Frank Wiborg. New York: McClure, Phillips & Co., 1905. 12mo.; pp. 159. Price, $1.

This book gives the experiences and impressions of an American business man on a trip through Panama, Ecuador, Chili, Peru, the Argentine Republic, and Brazil. The author met many business men in these countries, and had favorable opportunities to find out why so little of the South American trade comes to the United States instead of to foreign countries. The book is concisely written, and will doubtless convey to our manufacturers considerable information beneficial to them. It is illustrated by a number of half-tone plates and a map showing the route taken by the author.

The Car That Achieves The Cadillac has always been the car that does things. Whether the test be that of endurance or power, or one of severity of road service, this wonderful machine has never been found wanting. It knows no balk, no hesitancy, no delay—always ready, with energy to spare. By this dependability of service, coupled with unusual economy of maintenance, the Cadillac has made such phenomenal advancement that its factory is now the largest of its kind in the world. The qualities upon which this unparalleled growth is based are more pronounced than ever in the magnificent new cars for 1906. Embodied in these are many unique and important improvements improvements which make the Model K. 10 h. p. Runab $750, f. c. b. Detroit conspicuous for its individual merit. Among them is a wonderful mechanical feed lubricator which supplies oil to the motor in quantities which vary according to the speed of the engine, when properly adjusted, always feeding enough, never too much or too little. The new rocker joint on the front spring allows the car to pass over obstacles several inches in height without transmitting any material jar to the car, insuring a maximum of riding comfort and a minimum liability to breakage. In outline and finish these new Cadillacs are truly art creations. Of the Victoria type, their grace and exquisite beauty, their tone of quiet richness appeal at once to fastidious motorists. We want to tell you more about the Cadillac by sending you a free copy of our interesting Booklet N. A postal request brings it, together with address of nearest dealer. The 1906 models include: Model K, 10 h. p. Runabout, $750. Model H, 30 h. p. Touring Car, $2,500. Model K, 10 h. p. Runabout, $750. Model M, Light Touring Car, $950. Model H, 30 h. p. The Way to be a Thinker is toget in touch with thinkers. All the world's prizes are captured by those who have seasoned their energy with the spice of originality-and originality means the habit of clear and fresh thinking. Even the best of us have a tendency to fall into mental ruts, to go plodding on year after year, in the same track, to do things without knowing precisely why. The way to keep alive, the way to be original, the way to be a success, is to talk with brainy people and to read books that make you think. That's the reason is a cure for mental paralysis. It contains the best work of Darwin, Huxley, Spencer, Tyndall, and great leaders of modern thought. It will tell you what the famous Darwinian theory is; bow the planets are weighed and their motions charted; what radium is; how liquid air is made and used—and ten thousand other interesting things. It is a work to be read and enjoyed, for it is written in a clear aud interesting style—not abstruse or technical. The work consists of sixteen superb volumes, bandsomely printed and bound.

If you mail us the coupon below at once, we will send full information about the New Science Library, and how you may get it at half price and on the Individual Payment Plan. by means of which you can arrange the payments to suit yonrself.

At the same time we will send you a copy of our handsome 84-page book, "Some Wonders of Science." This book, containing articles by Thomas H. Huxley, E. B. Tylor, R. A. Proctor, and Ray Stannard Baker, is so bright and interesting that you will read it from cover to cover, and when you have read it you will wonder how you ever could have thought science dry and dull. Each copy is beautifully illustrated and printed. As long as the edition lasts, we will exchange a copy of it for the coupon printed at the bottom of this advertisement.

The Scientific American Boy

BУ A. RUSSELL BOND

320 Pages. 340 Illustrations. Price $2.00 Postpaid

HIS is a story of outdoor boy life, suggesting a large number of diversions which, aside from affording entertainment, will stimulate in boys the creative spirit. In each instance complete practical instructions are given for building the various articles.

The needs of the boy camper are supplied by the directions for making tramping outfits, sleeping bags and tents; also such other shelters as tree houses, straw huts, log cabins

The winter diversions include instructions for making six kinds of skate sails and eight kinds of snow shoes and skis. besides ice boats, scooters, sledges, toboggans and a peculiar Swedish contrivance called a "rennwolf."

Among the more instructive subjects covered are surveying, wigwagging, heliographing and bridge building, in which six different kinds of bridges, including a simple cantilever bridge, are described.

¶ In addition to these, the book contains a large number of miscellaneous devices, such as scows, canoes, land yachts, windmills, water wheels and the like. A complete table of contents sent on request.

"FOLLOW THE FLAG"

There is nothing more assuring to the traveler than his knowledge of the fact that he is traveling on a firm roadbed upon which is laid the heaviest of steel rails, made true in all their curves, and that the train which carries him is of the highest standard of excellence known to railroads and is being guided to its destination by experienced minds. These are the conditions which become apparent to the frequent traveler on the Wabash Line and which have made that line justly famous.

The aggressive management, at all times alert to the needs of the public, carry passengers in through cars between
